*Please explain below your tax filing status and why you were able to use that tax filing status given your marital status. It is preferred that you include a letter from your tax preparer or the IRS.

If you are legally married and you (or your spouse) filed as Head of Household, a copy of your signed tax return and a signed, amended tax return (1040X) may be required to correct your filing status with the IRS. After the 1040X is processed by the IRS, you may be requested to submit a copy of your amended Tax Return to the Financial Aid Office.

I certify that all of the information provided on this form is true, complete and accurate to the best of my knowledge. I understand that if corrections need to be made to my FAFSA, the Financial Aid Office will make the corrections based on the verification process.
